

Description

On July 14, 2008 the Federal Reserve Board published final revisions to Regulation Z, which, for the most part, take effect on October 1, 2009. The new servicing rules, for loans secured by the borrower's principal dwelling, impact all lenders. These new rules are complex and detailed. This program explains all of the new servicing rules.

Features

The new Regulation Z rules are the Federal Reserve Board's response to the sub-prime mortgage lending crisis. But make no mistake about it, the new rules impact all lenders not just those who engaged in sub-prime lending practices. The new rules are designed to prevent certain abusive practices in loan servicing.

> Upon completion of the program participants will understand:

- New appraisal restrictions;
- The expanded prohibition on "pyramiding" of late charges;
- The requirement to "promptly" respond to payoff requests; and
- The requirement to credit loan payments as of the date of receipt.

Workshop Resources

This program explains the servicing rules for loans secured by the borrower's principal dwelling and how the rules impact your institution. Program participants receive a detailed manual accompanied by a 50 minute video webcast, that provides a thorough explanation of the new rules.

Expected Audience

The program is designed for compliance officers, mortgage loan officers, loan originators and others involved in mortgage lending.

What is an On-Demand Course?

It is a training tool that gives you and your staff on-demand six months unlimited access to a variety of topics presented by names you trust—for one low price. Each course includes a video presentation from the speaker, audio and slides—plus a detailed manual for download and a Question and Answer Forum for answers anytime.

The process is simple. Enroll in a course, pay online with a credit card, and receive an e-mail immediately with your link to your course. The same login information and link is used to access all courses you purchase using your account. Your computer will need speakers to receive the audio presentation. There are no special hardware or software requirements to view the program. Presentations lasting in excess of one hour are broken down into 30 minute segments to make it easier to manage class participation time.

Special note to Trainers: This system gives you the ability to develop your online training library. Using one link, user name and password anyone in your organization is able to access the program for six months. The manual and other supporting materials are available to anyone with the login information. You forward the login information, assign the courses to watch and let the learning begin.
