

Description

Revised Regulation X makes major revisions to RESPA's HUD-1/1A. Among other changes is a side-by-side comparison of the numbers from the Good Faith Estimate and the HUD-1, along with a calculation that assures that the tolerance limits are maintained. This two-hour program provides a detailed review of and step-by-step instructions for completing the newly revised HUD-1/1A. Changes are effective January 1, 2010.

Features

The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) recently approved a final rule that completely overhauls the requirements of Regulation X, the implementing regulation for the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (RESPA). The new rules for the Settlement Statements (HUD-1/1A), are effective January 1, 2010.

Every mortgage lender and settlement agent in the nation will have to deal with the new HUD-1/1A. This webcast provides:

- A complete explanation of the new HUD-1 and HUD-1A;
- Detailed instructions for completing both forms; and
- An explanation of the coordination that must exist between the lender and the settlement agent to assure proper completion of the forms.

Upon completion of the seminar participants will understand:

- The new three-page HUD-1;
- The new two-page HUD-1A;
- The new instructions for preparing both the HUD-1 and the HUD-1A;
- How to calculate closing costs using the new average cost pricing method;
- Special entries on the HUD-1/1A to compensate for seller's items disclosed on the GFE;
- The new comparison of GFE and HUD-1/1A charges, with the tolerance check; and
- The new loan terms disclosure.

What is an On-Demand Course?

It is a training tool that gives you and your staff on-demand six months unlimited access to a variety of topics presented by names you trust—for one low price. Each course includes a video presentation from the speaker, audio and slides—plus a detailed manual for download and a Question and Answer Forum for answers anytime.

The process is simple. Enroll in a course, pay online with a credit card, and receive an e-mail immediately with your link to your course. The same login information and link is used to access all courses you purchase using your account. Your computer will need speakers to receive the audio presentation. There are no special hardware or software requirements to view the program. Presentations lasting in excess of one hour are broken down into 30 minute segments to make it easier to manage class participation time.

Special note to Trainers: This system gives you the ability to develop your online training library. Using one link, user name and password anyone in your organization is able to access the program for six months. The manual and other supporting materials are available to anyone with the login information. You forward the login information, assign the courses to watch and let the learning begin.
